UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD.

(Founded 872.)

	Elected.
CHANCELLOR, the Marquis of Salisbury	1869
VICE-CHANCELLOR, The Very Reverend Henry G. Liddell, Dean of Ch. Ch.	1870
REGISTRAR, Reverend E. T. Turner, M.A.	1853

The following statement gives the chief particulars concerning the University of Oxford as a place of Education in its relations to Medicine.

The affairs of the University are managed, and its regulations are made, either by a Convocation consisting of all Doctors in Divinity, Law, and Medicine, and Masters of Arts, or by the Resident Doctors and Masters, or by the Council.

There are 24 Colleges and Halls in Oxford. Every Student must reside in one or other of these for a period of three years, or, being matriculated, reside in lodgings during that time.

During these three years, he has to pass at least two Examinations in Arts, and one in either Mathematics, Natural Science, or Law and Modern History, when if he obtain a first, second, or third class, he can take his B.A. degree; if he do not gain such honours, he has to pass a third examination in Literis Humanioribus.

A Student deciding to graduate in Medicine should proceed as follows:

1st. To enter at a College or Hall or become an unattached Student by applying to the "Delegates of Unattached Studies."

2nd. To pass the requisite Examinations in Arts.
